NURMI SETS RECORD IN WINNING OLYMPIC 10,000-METER RACE

Finn Again Hero as He Leaves Ray in Ruck and Beats Ritola.

KUCK SHATTERS ALL MARKS IN SHOTPUT

High Jump Also Won by America as King Outstrips All Contenders.

By ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor).
Olympic Stadium, Amsterdam, Holland, July 29 (A.P.)—There still only one Nurmi.

The phantom of Finland came back to the Olympic arena this afternoon to trifle blader and more mature looking but still the greatest distance runner of them all.

In one of the greatest races of his long and illustrious career, Paavo Nurmi outdistanced the little American Joe Kuck, outran his rival countryman, Willie Ritola, in a spectacular finishing sprint and smashed the Olympic record in the 10,000 meter final.

Nurmi beat Ritola by 4 yards in a remarkable two-man duel and wiped out the latter's Olympic mark of 1924 by covering the distance of approximately six and a quarter miles in 30 minutes 18 4-5 seconds.

Nurmi's striking triumph, his seventh in three Olympiads, climaxed a day of otherwise sensational American triumphs in which the giant Kanian, John Kuck, competing under the colors of the Los Angeles A. C., shattered the world's shot put record with a heave of slightly over more than 52 feet, and another Westerner, Bob King, of Stanford, captured the high jump crown from his veteran countryman, Harold Osborn, of the Illinois A. C.

Ray and Wide Drop Back.

Ray started out as though he fully intended to make it a race. He took the lead for a time on the first lap, and again on the third, but soon yielded that position to the rugged Finnish-American Ritola, the 1924 champion. Ritola pounded along in front from then on for 21 laps. For fourteen turns of the red-clad Ritola, Nurmi and the Swedish schoolmaster, Edwin Wide, paced step for step. Wide cracked on the eighteenth lap, dropped back fast, and had a hard time saving third place, while the flying Finns whirled on, lapping several runners twice and most of the others, including Ray, once.

Nurmi, who four years ago liked to set his own pace, never once challenged Ritola until they came around the last turn. There Paavo made his bid, passing Ritola in a few strides and breaking the tape 3 yards in front of his old rival in a finish that had the crowd of 30,000 on their feet yelling tribute to the remarkable northlander.

Kuck's Toss Is Sensation.

Paavo, in a characteristic gesture after his victory, demonstrated that he's the same aloof figure by refusing to shake Ritola's hand, and unconsciously waving aside cameramen as he trotted off the field. Wide, badly spent, finished nearly 200 yards behind Ritola. Ray jogged around the last part of the race, finishing twelfth, a lap and a half behind the winner. Smith, an added starter, quit on the thirteenth lap, and Romig on the twentieth.

In the most amazing weight-tossing battle the world has ever seen, Kuck, on his next-to-last throw, heaved the 16-pound ball a distance of 52 feet 11 1/2 inches, to beat his countryman, Herman Brix, of the University of Washington, and the German giant, Emil Hirschfeld. Brix was second with a toss of 51 feet 8 inches and Hirschfeld third with 51 feet 6 1/2 inches, all three eclipsing Pat McDonald's old Olympic mark by more than a foot.

Never before in Olympic competition has 51 feet been approached nor had 52 feet been touched anywhere in actual contest, yet on the same afternoon, the three giants, two Americans and one German, had these figures groggy.

Finland Second to U. S.

Kuck's performance eclipsed the world's mark of 51 feet 9 1/2 inches, set by Hirschfeld last May, but actually placed on the books only two days ago. With Hirschfeld's mark went McDonald's Olympic record of 50 feet 3 3/4 inches, set in 1912.

With the distinction through Kuck's performance of having the Stars and Stripes first hoisted to the top of the Olympic victory pole, the Americans, by winning two of the day's three finals, pulled up a commanding lead in the team battle, scoring 35 points and more than doubling Finland's total of 17.

The American sprinters showed their heels to the highly touted Germans three times in their initial tests, but the outstanding performance individually was recorded by an unheralded Canadian, P. Williams, who, alone of the field, equaled the Olympic record of 10-3-5 seconds in the 100 meters. Williams tied the record in his second trial heat in which the Cuban, Pepe Barrientos, was eliminated.

Missing Educator, Stricken, Lies 3 Days Under Bed

Acting President Hammond, of Flora McDonald College, Paralyzed in Hotel Room While Search Is Conducted for Him Through South.

Columbia, S. C., July 29 (A.P.)—How Dr. H. C. Hammond, acting president of Flora McDonald College, Red Springs, N. C., lay paralyzed and helpless for three days and nights on the floor of a room in a hotel here before his plight was discovered by hotel attendants, was revealed tonight after the missing educator was found in the Baptist Hospital.

His left arm and side are paralyzed, and his left leg is partly paralyzed. His condition is not serious, Dr. P. E. Payne, who is treating him, said tonight, and he will recover.

Dr. Hammond left his home in Red Springs on July 17 and registered at a hotel here that night. He had an engagement at Graham, N. C., the next day with J. Harvey White, chairman of the board of trustees of the college, and on the following Sunday was to have preached at the Presbyterian Church in Red Springs.

When he failed to show up for the services last Sunday his friends became alarmed and started a search for him. The search was not made known, however, until Friday night.

John D. McLeod, business manager of the college; J. A. Graham, Red Springs merchant; Dr. W. L. McRae, mayor of Red Springs; the Rev. J. B. Black, pastor of the church Dr. Hammond was to have preached in last Sunday, and Z. V. McMillan came here today, tracing down a rumor that the missing educator was in this section. They searched hospitals and found him.

Dr. Hammond, according to the story unfolded today, apparently was stricken while in bed during the night of July 17. He attempted to arise Wednesday morning and fell on the floor. He rolled under the bed, and every effort he made, appeared to get him farther under the bed instead of toward the door.

Hotel employees thought nothing of

CANTON FOILS RED PLOT; 140 SEIZED, 17 EXECUTED

Nine Girls Among Communists Accused of Assisting Vast Conspiracy.

TROOPS IN SULLEN MOOD

Canton, China, July 29 (A.P.)—Government authorities today announced the discovery of a new and extensive communist plot for an uprising.

One hundred and forty communists, including nine girls, were arrested, and seventeen persons were executed, while thousands of incendiary pamphlets were confiscated.

The announcement, coming after weeks of tranquillity during which the Kwangsi province group controlling the Canton government had succeeded in establishing order, dismayed the business community which fears renewed riots similar to those of December, 1927, and the early part of 1928.

Government troops throughout Kwangsi province are said to be in a sullen mood. Their ranks contain thousands of communists who might be involved in the uprising.

U. S. Welsh Singers Met by 10,000 at Sea

Cardiff, Wales, July 29 (A.P.)—Ten thousand persons in a fleet of pleasure boats sailed from Bristol Channel today to meet the nine George Washington bearing the American Moose party and the Welsh-American choir for the Welsh Eisteddfod. They escorted the liner into Cardiff while thousands watched the arrival from cliffs.

FRENCH ARE CRITICAL OF U. S.-CHINA TREATY

Press Holds American Action Can Provoke Complications Among Powers.

Special to The Washington Post.
Paris, July 29.—The French press today is critical of the treaty concluded between the United States and the Chinese Nationalist government.

Professing to see in the treaty agreement an implication of recognition of the new government, before it has proved its ability to exercise authority or is qualified to speak or act in the name of all China, Paris political writers declare the United States has broken step with the other powers regarding China in a manner that can provoke many complications. The action of the State Department is described as "a reply to the attitude of Japan on the so-called unequal treaties."

Le Temps says, in the default of a firm entente, concerted attitude of the powers towards China is at least necessary, but it will be difficult henceforth, since the United States has taken the initiative on which they can scarcely back down, and which engages them to some extent politically for the future."

Elkton Taxi Men to Fight For Elopement Revenue

"Jitney" drivers of Elkton, Md., who fortify their income by meeting elopers at the train and offering to give them a personally-conducted tour to the marriage license clerk and to a minister to perform the ceremony, are ready to fight the enforcement of a recently enacted ordinance which would deprive them of this source of income.

The new ordinance, apparently, had not been enforced to the satisfaction of the town councilmen, so they have adopted an order directing Chief of Police George Potts to make arrests if the practice is continued.

Potts, it is said, has served notice on the "jitney" drivers who act as agents for Elkton's ministers in

FRENCH WIN DAVIS CUP DOUBLES FROM AMERICA

Cochet-Borotra Beat Tilden-Hunter in Hard-Fought, Five-Set Match.

TODAY'S SINGLES DECIDE

By THOMAS T. TOPPING (Associated Press Sports Writer).
Roland Garros Stadium, Autell, France, July 29.—With a display of brilliant individual tennis, Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra today made it almost a certainty that the Davis Cup will remain in France for another year by defeating the American team of William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter in the doubles match, 6-4, 6-8, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

With only one victory in the first three matches, the United States must win both of tomorrow's singles matches to bring the cup back from France. Big Bill Tilden, who scored America's one win on Friday over France's ace, Rene Lacoste, will meet Cochet tomorrow, while John Hennessey comes up against an almost insuperable obstacle to American victory in the redoubtable Lacoste.

Taking up the doubles match today where it was left off yesterday when rain made further play impossible last night.

Man and Child Drown As Auto Leaves Bridge

Georgetown, S. C., July 29 (A.P.)—Jesse Parker, 52, prominent merchant and farmer of Scranton, Florence County, and his adopted daughter, Elizabeth, 6, were drowned yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding ran off a bridge into a creek on the Johnsville-Georgetown road 15 miles from here. Mr. Parker and his daughter were on their way, it was said, to the beach to spend the week-end when the accident occurred.

The automobile was discovered in the creek by passersby and Mr. Parker's body was recovered. The little girl's body had not been found tonight, according to reports reaching here.

French Liner Sails Under Police Guard

Le Havre, France, July 29 (A.P.)—Passengers for New York boarded the French Line steamer Rochambeau today under a heavy police guard because of a strike of stokers and others.

The vessel finally was able to leave port, 12 hours late, with 35 sailors of the French navy replacing the striking engine room crew.

After the Rochambeau and two other ships sailed despite the walkout, the authorities intimated that the strike would be called off.

Motorboat Upsets; 9 Drowned in Fjord

Bergen, Norway, July 29 (A.P.)—Nine persons were drowned in the swamping of an overloaded motorboat which was transferring passengers from a coastal steamer on Lister-Fjord near Christiansand.

According to Elkton court records, 71 couples were united in marriage at the little town during the past week. The nuptials of many young elopers, and old ones, too, from the District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania have been solemnized at Elkton in the past.

MOTHER CONVINCED TALE OF MALMGREN DEATH IS CORRECT

Is Satisfied, After Zappi Visits Her, Captain Is Telling Truth.

SURVIVOR GIVES HER COMPASS SON USED

Gen. Nobile Leaves Denmark for Germany on His Return to Rome.

Stockholm, Sweden, July 29 (A.P.)—Dr. Finn Malmgren's mother is satisfied with the report of her son's death brought her by Capt. Filippo Zappi, his companion on the fatal dash over the ice that added his name to the list of those lost in the Italia disaster, it became known today.

Capt. Zappi, en route to Rome, left his rescued comrades yesterday to call on Mme. Malmgren and to present to her the meteorologist's compass that, at the latter's behest, he took from the dying scientist on the Spitzbergen ice pack.

Mme. Malmgren's son-in-law quoted her today as saying after Capt. Zappi's visit: "The object of Capt. Zappi's call has been attained. I feel perfectly calm. I believe absolutely that Capt. Zappi is telling me the truth."

Talk Is In English.

The conversation between the rescued Italian and Mme. Malmgren was carried on in English, with the son-in-law as interpreter. In a statement today he quoted Capt. Zappi as saying: "Dr. Malmgren and I were the best of friends. We were like brothers. I have been very much pained by what has been said about me, but I have a clear conscience before God. Dr. Malmgren kept no notes, at least after the disaster."

Here Mme. Malmgren interrupted Capt. Zappi's story with the exclamation: "I understand it was not his habit." Capt. Zappi continued: "Dr. Malmgren was not in good form when we set out and soon remarked that my strength was going to fail him. One day, I believe it was the 13th of June, the doctor asked me, as the only service that I could do him, to Michigan City, Ind., July 29.—Harry Deutscher, 28, of Westville, Ind., peace-maker in a fight last night at a barn dance, is in a critical condition at a hospital with seventeen bullet wounds.

Harry Van Hausen, Chicago; J. C. Bronson, Chicago, and John Poterdowski, of Westville, were the principals in the fight.

EIGHT DIE IN WRECK OF BURLINGTON TRAIN

Victims Are Trapped When Gasoline From Tank Cars Ignites.

Guernsey, Wyo., July 29 (A.P.)—Eight unidentified men were burned to death in a spectacular freight train wreck on the Burlington Railroad here today.

The eight men were besting their way in an empty box car and were trapped when gasoline from wrecked tank cars ignited. Tank cars comprised the greater part of the train of 27 cars, and flaming gasoline spread from the wreck down the Platte River for several miles, causing the river to appear as though it were on fire.

So badly were the bodies of the eight men burned authorities believed they never would be identified. Some of the bodies were virtually cremated, they said.

Railroad officials expressed the opinion that the wreck was caused by loosening of the roadbed by cloudbursts 1 1/2 at night. The track near the Platte River, where the wreck occurred, had become so shaky that it gave way under the weight of the heavy freight train, they said.

Vanderbilt Burglars Get Only 3 Raw Eggs

Paris, July 29 (A.P.)—Burglars who gained entrance to the home of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt some time Friday night apparently stole only three eggs, which they swallowed raw.

A survey revealed that the burglars failed to crack a safe containing a fortune in jewels, although they broke glass cases and took miniatures from frames which they dropped in flight. Mrs. Vanderbilt is now on a cruising trip on her yacht.

GOV. MOODY AHEAD BY 100,000; MILLER STILL LEADS LOVE

High Men in Texas Lieutenant Governorship Race Far Apart.

MAYFIELD IS PRESSED CLOSELY BY CONNALLY

Returns on Congressional Contests Show That the Incumbents Win.

Dallas, Tex., July 29 (A.P.)—After more than 500,000 of the 700,000 votes cast in yesterday's State-wide Democratic primary had been counted tonight by the Texas election bureau, it became increasingly evident that Dan Moody, the 35-year-old, red-haired chief executive, had won a sweeping victory, with a run-off next month necessary to determine the nominees for United States senator and lieutenant governor.

Gov. Moody, who defeated "Ma" Ferguson in a sensational contest two years ago, had a clear majority of upward of 100,000 over his three opponents. Louis J. Wardlaw, assailed in campaign speeches by Gov. Moody as running with the backing of James E. Ferguson, former governor, was more than 150,000 behind, while the vote cast for William E. Hawkins and Mrs. Edith Williams, both of whom refused to support the Democratic presidential nominee, Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, was negligible.

Tantamount to Election.

Since nomination is tantamount to election, Gov. Moody seemed destined to sit in the governor's chair another two years.

Returns from 235 of 253 counties in Texas, including 52 complete in yesterday's primary, as compiled by the Texas election bureau, gave:

For United States senator: Mayfield, 154,689; Connally, 143,595; Owsley, 99,690; Blanton, 94,375; Cunningham, 21,284; McLemore, 8,294.

Governor: Moody, 342,585; Wardlaw, 188,943; Hawkins, 24,796; Williams, 14,091.

Lieutenant governor: Miller, 235,658; Love, 151,267; Parnell, 57,922; Darwin, 34,561; McCall, 31,345.

It was to the contest for lieutenant governor, however, that many politicians and others looked for an expression of pro and anti Smith sentiment. Barry Miller, of Dallas, incumbent, who pleaded for "the ticket, top to bottom," throughout his campaign, led a lead of more than 184,000 over State Senator Thomas B. Love, also of Dallas, who declined to support Gov. Smith and whose name as a result was left off the ballot in several counties. It was not the closeness of that contest that seemed to assure a run-off, but the rather heavy vote polled by three others in the contest.

Congress Returns Incomplete.

Interest in the contest for gubernatorial nomination plunged it far ahead of the senatorial contest. Senator Earle B. Mayfield continued to hold the lead he took with tabulation of the first 10,000 votes, but he was pressed so closely by Tom Connally, representative from the Eleventh district, that votes polled by four others in the contest, including Representative Tom Blanton, promised to prevent

EGYPT'S GOVERNMENT CENSURED IN SECRET

Deputies Defy Ban; Hold Meeting and Pass Vote of No Confidence.

Cairo, Egypt, July 29 (A.P.)—The Wafdist newspaper, Al Dallah, declares that despite the ban of the government and police precautions, deputies and senators representing the Wafd party met last night and passed resolutions condemning the recent decree of King Faud dissolving parliament for three years.

"This house resolves that parliament be dissolved for three years, and has a right to meet according to the constitution. This house declares the present government is carrying out a revolution against the constitution, passes a vote of no confidence in the cabinet, and calls on it to resign."

The newspaper publishes the names of 168 signatories to the resolutions, but another newspaper, El Ahram, declares 202 members of parliament out of a total of 335, representing all parties, signed.

London-South Africa Light Plane Trip On

London, July 29 (A.P.)—Flying Officer P. Murdoch, of the South African air force, left Croydon Air Field today in a 30-horsepower light plane in an attempt to fly to Cape Town and back, 18,000 miles, in eighteen days.

Murdoch said the object of the flight is to show that it is possible to fly through the Sudan during the rainy season and thus prove the practicability of regular all-year air service. The feat has never been accomplished.

Montgomery Ministers Shun Dry League Meeting

Only Eight of Sixty Invited Attend Antislavery League Rally at Washington Grove—G. W. Crabbe Is Speaker—Film Is Shown.

Although 60 Protestant pastors of Montgomery County, Md., were invited to attend a rally of the Antislavery League in the auditorium at Washington Grove, Md., yesterday there were only eight pastors present, according to the Rev. Alvin T. Perkins, pastor of the Washington Grove Methodist Church.

Dr. Perkins said that the failure of the pastors to attend did not prevent more than 600 persons from being present at the afternoon rally and several hundred more at the night rally.

George W. Crabbe, superintendent of the Maryland Antislavery League, was the principal speaker at the afternoon session. Although he did not mention the name of Al Smith he cautioned his audience against voting for a man who stands for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. He made such a pointed talk against repeal of the eighteenth amendment that the general impression gained by those who attended was that

SHAH WOULD SELL GEMS FOR AMERICAN TRACTORS

Persian Ruler Objects to Having $25,000,000 Tied Up in Jewels.

FARMING TOOLS NEEDED DEAD WHEN DISCOVERED

(Special Cable Dispatch).
Teheran, Persia, July 29.—During the reign of the present Shah, Rihza Kahn Pahlevi, it has become a law with the cabinet of ministers to meet at the shah's palace when the subject to be discussed is important enough to call for his majesty's presence.

The matter in hand recently was the newly established national bank and the way the state could help it to become beneficial to the agricultural classes. The plan is for the bank to make long-term advances, with low interest, to the peasants. This is to enable them to improve their lands and use the most modern agricultural implements. Some modern implements are now being used in many parts of the country, due to the wakefulness of the American International Harvester Co.

His majesty was for getting rid of the state jewels, valued at $25,000,000. He did not see why the country should be deprived much longer of a large sum like this. He ordered the cabinet ministers to be a little more brisk about the affair and invite buyers from Europe and America. The shah was much attracted by the American tractors, which have been successfully tried in this country. He has tried them on his own extensive lands, and when transport charges become more reasonable, in a few months, he is sure to let loose the strings of his heavy purse.

A difficulty in the way of more extensive use of the tractor is the present high price of gasoline. The shah was, however, hopeful that this would be readjusted in the near future. The oil fields of Semnan, not far from Teheran, are proving promising. He has been assisted by experts in the fields that in less than a year Persia will have its own cheap oil and be independent of the Caucasus and Anglo-Persian Oil Co., working the oil fields in southeast Persia.

Drowning Is Caused By Tangled Parachute

Knoxville, Tenn., July 29 (A.P.)—Fred L. Goodspeed, 28 years old, of Philadelphia, making an exhibition parachute jump today near Kingston, Tenn., 40 miles west of Knoxville, landed in the Emory River, became entangled in his parachute and drowned.

Boy Scouts helped pull his body from the river.

4 Killed at Crossing As Train Hits Auto

Dunnellen, N. J., July 28 (A.P.)—A toll of four lives was taken tonight when an excursion train bound from Newark to Raritan plowed into a small sedan at the Chestnut street crossing of the Central of New Jersey.

The dead: Louis Mayer, 54; his wife, 55; Mrs. George Saltes, 35, and George Saltes, 5 months old, son of Mrs. Saltes.

Anti-Smith Club Imperils Peace of Duke U. Faculty

Special to The Washington Post.
Durham, N. C., July 29.—Efforts of W. P. Few, of Duke University, to organize an anti-Smith club and to force two professors of the same institution to accept offices in the organization threaten to disrupt the faculty.

President Few attended a meeting several days ago and opened the Durham County Anti-Smith Club. He nominated R. L. Flowers, secretary of the university, and one of its leading professors, as president of the club. He also caused R. E. Thigpen, alumni secretary of the university, to be chosen as secretary of the anti-Smith organization. Neither Flowers nor Thigpen attended the meeting and when they heard of the action taken they denounced it. Dr. Few had assured those at the meeting that both Flowers and Thigpen would accept the offices.

Thigpen says Dr. Few is mistaken if he believes he will oppose Gov. Smith for President.

It was not an original Smith man, but I am a Democrat and I am supporting the party and its nominee," he declared in declining to accept the office.

Prof. Flowers says he could not see his way clear to become president of the club as he intends to vote for Smith. The faculty is selected by the North Carolina Methodist Conference.

COOLIDGE ASSAILS SECTIONAL STRIFE DURING DEDICATION

Speaks at Exercises for Col. Colvill, Union Civil War Hero.

HITS AT ARTIFICIALLY STIMULATED FEELING

First Lady Unveils Tablet as 1,500 Guardsmen Stand at Attention.

Cannon Falls, July 29 (A.P.)—Speaking at the dedication of a monument to Col. William Colvill, Union Civil War hero, President Coolidge denounced today artificially stimulated animosities between the Northern and the Southern States of America, declaring "the day of sectionalism is passed. We are a united nation."

Arriving from Superior to be the principal speaker at the ceremonies, Coolidge reviewed the progress made by the South since the Civil War, saying that such advance "is going forward in a way which it could never have done under the old system" before 1861. He pointed to the support which the Mississippi flood relief bill obtained at the last session of Congress as a proof of the existing cooperation between all parts of the Nation.

Demonstrations Follow Train.

Arriving in Cannon Falls accompanied by Gov. and Mrs. Christianson, Representative and Mrs. Newton and by Mrs. Frank Kellogg, wife of the Secretary of State, who had boarded the presidential train at St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge found the whole city in Sunday attire, ready to greet them enthusiastically despite the blazing heat. Corresponding demonstrations had followed the special train since its departure early in the morning from Hawthorne, only a few miles from the summer White House.

A large reception committee, including Senator Shipstead and Representatives Knudson, Furrow, Clague, Anderson, Mass, Goodwin, Krale and Cars, met the train. Coming out on the observation platform of his car to respond to the cheers of the crowd, the Chief Executive recognized the Minnesota senator and some of the representatives in the throng and bade them join him on the platform to pose with him and Mrs. Coolidge for the photographers.

Mrs. Coolidge Unveils Tablet.

Large crowds lined the streets along the line of march to the cemetery, where the Colvill tablet was to be unveiled. Even larger crowds, however, had gathered at the foot of the little mound, on the top of which the ceremonies were to take place, and from which Coolidge was to give his address.

In his speech Mr. Coolidge gave an account of the heroism of the First Minnesota Volunteer Regiment, which, led by Col. Colvill, averted disaster at the most critical moment of the battle of Gettysburg and "probably saved the Union Army from defeat. What the defeat would have meant to the North no one can tell," he said.

Referring to the aftermath of the war, Mr. Coolidge said that "one result of the war which retarded our national progress for many years was the bitterness, hatred and sectional animosity that it left in its wake. For many years, both for the North and for the South, these were unfortunately stimulated and kept alive for the political advantage that the sponsors of such action hoped to secure."

Referring to the causes of the Civil War, the Chief Executive said that the North and South developed opinions which necessarily gave rise to an "irrepressible conflict."

"That generation of the South found itself involved in a net of circumstances which very much of its best thought undoubtedly deplored

WILL FISH FOR TROUT
TODAY IN ROGUE RIVER

Later Will Push On to Brown's Camp for a Three-Day Stay.

With Hoover Party En Route to Brown's Camp, July 29 (A.P.).— Sesshore, valley, named mountain roads unfaded today before Herbert Hoover as his party pushed through northern California and southern Oregon on an automobile tour to Brown's Camp near Hornbrook, where the Republican presidential nominee will spend tomorrow, Tuesday and Wednesday fishing for trout.

Getting an early morning start from Bullfist, where camp was made last night at the end of the first day's run from Stanford University, the travelers
to Eureka, a lumber shipping port, where the first of the trip were out to greet the nominee.

Only a brief stop was made and then the party followed the highway which would lead to the cliffs overlooking the Pacific Ocean. For 50 miles the sea was in sight before the road turned off at Crescent City inland beyond the southern Oregon line to Grants, Pass and Medford, the place selected for the second night's stay.

Will Fish Today.

Steelhead trout will be sought tomorrow in the Rogue River and then Hoover and his companions will resume the ride to Brown's Camp at the headwaters of the Klamath River, where the trout are reported to be fairly plentiful.

Hoover was the first to reach the camp at evening tide, and he found attendants there busy with preparations for dinner. Other members of his party came straggling in, and they voluntarily set to work gathering wood for the fire and huge logs as axes.

The Republican candidate, wearing a brown sack suit with a gray sweater under his coat, arrived at the camp at a pipe. After watching the proceeding for a time he called up his store of woods lore, gathered in mining camps and in many corners of the world, to assist the volunteers in the task which was not any too familiar to them.

Stories Are Told.

Under his guiding the fire soon was crackling and snapping, and after dinner the party lined up around it for pictures taken under the glare of the flames.

That over, the story tellers were called upon, and then came the old campfire songs led by William J. Donovan, Assistant United States Attorney General, assisted by Thomas T. C. Gregory, a San Francisco lawyer and personal friend of the candidate.

Donovan brought the singing more or less up to date with a swing into the "Sawdust of New York," to the amusement of Hoover.

glided back and forth over a distance of approximately 10 miles, finally landing at Wellfleet when a shift in the wind robbed him of his altitude.

GLIDER STAYS IN AIR
4 HOURS 5 MINUTES

PROVINCETOWN, MASS., JULY 29 (A.P.).—
For the second time within a week the American endurance record for air gliders was broken today when Peter Hesseltine, German flier, remained in the air 4 hours and 5 minutes. Hesseltine took off from Corn Hill at 9:55
a. m. in his Dornier glider, remained in glided back and forth over a distance of approximately 10 miles, finally landing at Wellfleet when a shift in the wind robbed him of his altitude.

GOV. SMITH REFUSES AGAIN TO COMMENT ON FOES' ASSAULTS

"Nothing to Say at This Time on White," and That Goes for Owen.

IMPRESSED BY NEGLECT OF PARK AT MONTAUK

Executive Blames Republican Legislators; Calls on W. H. Woodin.

Hampton Bays, N. Y., July 29 (A.P.).— A tight lid was kept clamped today on presidential politics by Gov. Smith as he made the most of his opportunity at the seashore for rest and recreation, and incidentally to inspect two undeveloped State park areas at the eastern tip of Long Island.

Although he held an informal press conference with a dozen newspaper men who accompanied him here, the Democratic nominee steadfastly declined to be drawn out regarding his own candidacy or attacks made upon him.

Assaults G. O. P. Legislature.

Despite his reluctance to talk politics while on vacation, Smith, before and during his visit to the park region in the afternoon, took a few shots at the Republican legislature, with which he has been at odds on the State park development program.

He reiterated his contention that the legislature had adopted a niggardly policy, and once, as he gazed around at Montauk Point, noting the lack of bathing and recreational facilities, declared:

"This is cold-blooded, deliberate neglect. It's ridiculous."

Refreshed by a good night's rest at Canoe Place Inn, which is on an arm of Shinnecock Bay on the south shore of Long Island, the governor and his family attended 10 o'clock mass at St.
Rosalia's Church nearby.

Later at the clubhouse which is his summer headquarters, he took a walk with his family. He had a long talk with White's new attack on his legislature by William Allen White, Kansas editor, who had appeared in the morning newspapers, a reporter asked Mr.
Smith if he cared to comment.

"I have nothing to say at this time," he said.

"Is there a possibility that you may have something to say in a day or two?" inquired another newspaper man.

"I have nothing to say at this time," the nominee reiterated, with a note of finality.

"Does that go for Owen, too?"
"That goes for Owen," Smith came back, and with that the subject was dismissed.

Calls on Woodin.

Several weeks ago at Albany after White had assailed his legislative records as favorable to the liquor interests and to commercialize vice, the governor made a vigorous reply of hand to newspaper men. He also gave a formal statement a few days ago questioning the sincerity of former Senator Robert H. Owen in refusing to support him because of his alliance with Tammany Hall.

On his way to the State Park area, Gov. Smith, who was accompanied by his wife and members of his family, drove to the summer residence of William H. Woodin, president of the American Car & Foundry Co. and a prominent Republican who recently announced that he intended to support
Mr. Smith. He stayed there long enough to exchange greetings with the man who a few years ago served under him, and then he drove to the summer administrator during a fuel emergency.

Text of Kellogg Pact Displeasing to Soviet

Moscow, July 29 (A.P.).—While Soviet Russia's attitude toward Secretary Kellogg's observatory pact appears to be one of "watchful waiting," an official opinion in well informed quarters is that the treaty as it now stands would suit the Soviet government, and in this quarters it is said that Mr. Kellogg's text, as finally amended, has not the sanctions that Russia considers necessary.

No statement has been made officially or unofficially as to what action Russia would take if invited to sign the present pact. The Soviet government, however, would be willing to confer in an effort to meet Mr. Kellogg at least half way.

Peasants' Parliament
Holds Laws Are Void

Bucharest, Roumania, July 29 (A.P.).— A short session of parliament and the rival proceedings of the National Peasants' party, the so-called "private parliament," were held yesterday without any unpleasant incident.

The Peasants' meeting voted resolutions declaring all laws passed by the parliament and the government void and having no obligatory force on the nation. The meeting also roundly condemned the Bratianu government and declared that the peasants' assembly would reunite wherever it considers the moment opportune.

C. H. Randall Opposes
Johnson in California

Los Angeles, July 29 (A.P.).—Charles H. Randall, a member of the city council and former member of Congress from the Ninth California district, today formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator in opposition to Senator Hiram Johnson.

In a lengthy statement accompanying his announcement, Randall sharply attacked the political record of Senator Johnson and criticized the latter's stand on the eighteenth amendment.

New Transatlantic
Cable to Be Fastest

New York, July 29 (A.P.).—A new transatlantic cable, intended to be the fastest in the world, will be laid from Newfoundland to the Azores, starting in August, Newcomb Carlson, president of the Western Union Telegraph Co., announced today.

The cable will be in operation by the middle of September, he said, and because of a new principle known as "tapered loading," it will be capable of carrying at least ten separate messages simultaneously.

KANSAS FLEE TOWNS As Rain Brings Flood

Topeka, Kans., July 29 (A.P.).— Flood conditions existed in northern and central Kansas tonight following rains over the week-end reported unofficially as heavy as 7 inches.

A report from Holistington in central Kansas said most of the city was flooded following a 7-inch rain. Residents of South Holistington were said to be moving to higher ground. One mile of track on the Missouri Pacific Railroad was washed out there. At Ellis, Kans., Big Creek overflowed the countryside, washed out a mile of Union Pacific tracks and inundated portions of the town. About 100 families were forced to flee to higher ground.

Two Film Actresses
Engaged to Marry

Hollywood, Calif., July 29 (A.P.).— Priscilla Bonner, motion-picture actress, announced today to a large gathering of friends her engagement to Dr. Bert Young of Hollywood. The wedding, she said, has been set for September 1 here.

Miss Bonner, another film actress, admitted her engagement to William Davis, Los Angeles real estate man.
Miss Davis joined the film colony about three years ago, coming here from Pittsburgh.

IOWA GOVERNOR ACCUSED OF DESERTING CORN BELT

Peck Challenges Indorsement
of Hoover as Repudiating
His Own Committee.

ASKS FOR NEW MEETING

Chicago, July 29 (A.P.).—Gov. Ham-mill, of Iowa, has been challenged by George N. Peck, of Moline, Ill., chairman of the executive committee of 22 of the North Central States Agricultural Conference, to explain his indorsement of the candidacy of Herbert Hoover in the face of his many assertions that adequate farm relief could come only through legislation embodying an equalization fee. Peck wrote to Gov.
Hammill July 24 and a statement which he has not received a reply.

After reviewing the resolutions adopted in March, 1926, at the agricultural conference convened by elected representatives of West farmers, Peck summoned to Des Moines by Gov. Ham-mill, Peck declared Gov. Hammill was "a traitor to the farmers of Iowa," and was "a disgrace to the principles of the conference."

Peck held Mr. Hoover, as "agricultural adviser of the last administration," responsible more than any other person for the "continued depression in agriculture during the past eight years."

"I understand that you now indorse the action of the Kansas City convention and the candidacy of Mr. Hoover," Peck wrote the Iowa Governor.

"This raises a question, fundamental in the organization of the committee of 22, who has the right to speak for agricultural farmers themselves through their selected leaders or the politicians, officeholders and candidates?"

Peck said that the importance of the question of the right to speak for the farmers was a question of leadership.

"I am not a farmer," he said, "but I am a citizen of Iowa, and I am a citizen of the United States. I am a citizen of the world. I am a citizen of the future. I am a citizen of the past. I am a citizen of the present.

SELLING PAPERS BUILDS CHARACTER, BUREAU SAYS

Labor Department Survey Finds Route Carriers Benefited by Responsibilities.

FEW IN JUVENILE COURTS

That young boys are benefited by the responsibility of newspaper route was indicated by the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor following the study of the conditions prevailing among the newsmen in eight large cities in the Eastern and Middle Western part of the country, one of which was Washington.

"Either the responsibility of a route developed qualities that made for success in school or boys without such qualities did not continue to have a route over a period of several years," the report stated. "The proportion of carriers in the different cities who had juvenile court records was very small—smaller than for any other group of street workers in their respective cities."

For the most part, the report declared, the parents of boys having routes were enthusiastic over the training they received. Those who object to the work, found fault with the hours, or the loss of money through delinquent customers, or the weight of the papers. The report, however, did not view with equal satisfaction the conditions prevailing along the newsies who sell their papers on the street corners. Here the opportunities for forming bad habits and contacts are greater, with the result that the newsies are not as regular as they might be in their school work, the report said.

Baltimore Boy Held After Gift Auto Ride

His roller skates becoming tiresome on his trip in search of adventure, Kenneth Strauss, 12 years old, of Baltimore, Md., hailed an automobile in the outskirts of Baltimore and asked for a ride. The obliging woman driver allowed him to get in the car and brought him to Washington.

Arrived here she discovered that he lived in Baltimore and fearing he was a runaway turned him over to Police-man V. Eakridge, of the Twelfth Precinct. Kenneth was then sent to the House of Detention and held as a fugitive from his parents, who were not notified. The woman drove an automobile with Chicago license tags.

J. F. FLYNN, 74, DIES; WORKED WITH EDISON

Telegrapher Chum of Inventor Later Became Noted as Railway Builder.

New York, July 29 (A.P.)—Word was received today of the death in Toronto Friday of John Philip Flynn, 74, who was a telegrapher with Thomas A. Edison. Later he became a newspaperman, railroad construction engineer and a prominent mining engineer.

Flynn was born in Elburn, Ill. Starting as a telegrapher, by the time he was 18 years of age he had risen to the position of train dispatcher with the Northwestern Railroad in Chicago. Both in Chicago and in St. Thomas, Ont., where he went later, he was a close friend of Thomas A. Edison, then a telegrapher.

Returning to the United States, he engaged in railroad and engineering, and, in 1884, he built and financed in Laredo, Tex., one of the earliest electric street car lines in the United States. Going to Mexico, he assisted in construction of the railroad line between Monterey and Tampico, and was instrumental in attracting English capital to a number of large Mexican mines.

When the Cobalt boom started in Canada in 1905 he went there and was active in development of a number of mines in that region, obtaining American capital for the purpose.

Dr. Martin F. Stone Dies in Baltimore
Baltimore, July 29 (A.P.)—Dr. Martin F. Stone, 43, instructor at Johns Hopkins University in clinical medicine, former superintendent of Eudowood Sanatorium at Towson, Md., and internationally known authority of tuberculosis, died here today.

Coming to Baltimore in 1908 as a special student in medicine at Johns Hopkins, he was appointed head of the department a year later. He held that position until 1921, and then took the position which he held at his death. During the war, he was used by the Government as consultant in lung diseases. In the later years of the war he was medical director of clinics for the American Red Cross in Italy.

JOSEPH T. BASSFORD DEAD.

Retired Capital Policeman to Be Buried in Arlington Cemetery.
Joseph T. Bassford, 64 years old, retired policeman, died yesterday at his home, 1424 Madison street northwest. Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the Columbia Heights Christian Church. Burial will be in Arlington cemetery.

Mr. Bassford was appointed to the police force November 23, 1889, and was retired December 1, 1926. He served in the Second District during the last fifteen years he was on the force. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ella Bassford, and two daughters, Mrs. Edward Weaver and Mrs. Alfred Webster.

ACTIVITY IN STEEL AT HIGHER LEVEL THAN A YEAR AGO

General Business Encouraging, Despite Normal Seasonal Restraint.

CAR LOADINGS REVEAL GAIN OVER 1927 RATE

Shipments of Farm Products Increased—Coal Is Still a Week Spot.

New York, July 29 (A.P.).—Business developments in the past week were distinctly encouraging, although the normal seasonal restraints still militated against any broad expansion. The steel industry maintained a level of activity well in advance of the like period last year. Leading crops made good progress under favorable weather conditions, and the outlook for autumn trade was regarded with increased confidence.

The Bethlehem Steel Co. reported operations at 75.6 per cent of capacity, against 64 per cent a year ago. Eugene G. Grace, president, said that if railroads were only in the market for the normal amount of equipment, operations would be nearly at capacity. That they were not in the market, however, was regarded as reflecting economic operation rather than weakness. Mr. Grace pointed out that since the war the steel industry had been equipped with modern equipment that will last. Steel prices stiffened slightly, but remained relatively low. Pig iron prices again eased.

Auto Operations High.
The automobile industry continued operations at high levels. General Motors reported record earnings for the first half and second quarter, and sales of more than 1,000,000 in the first half, compared to approximately 840,000 in the like period last year. Detroit employment figures showed a gain of 8,000 last week. Building activity also continued in heavy volume, having crossed the $2,000,000,000 mark in the first half of 1927. Farm implement, stove and shoe manufacturing were also at high levels compared to recent years.

Car loadings showed a slight gain over last year, but were still under 1926. Coal loadings continued to be the weak spot, while most of the commodities held up well or improved. Farm products showed a gain of 10,000 cars compared with the like week a year ago. A gain in miscellaneous freight was also shown. Higher shipments during the remainder of the year were predicted, as stocks of merchandise were generally low.

Gasoline consumption continued at record high levels, and although there was an increase in crude oil production, gasoline and crude prices were advanced. Several oil companies reported better earnings during the past few months, and the industry seemed to be working out of the depression of the past two years.

Curtailment in Textiles.
In the textile industry, cotton manufacturers showed continued determination to curtail operations pending improvement in prices. Spindle activity during June this year was less than last, even allowing for the New Bedford strike. The Boston wool trade showed an appreciable gain in business, with prices firm.

Bank clearings again showed a gain over the like period of last year, but the margin of gain was considerably less. Wholesale prices held generally steady, with a slight easing tendency. The inventory record was decidedly better, with 70 less failures than the previous week and 80 less than a year ago.

Curb Market's Tone Firmer During Week

New York, July 29 (A.P.).—The curb market showed a firmer tone and broadening demand last week. The improvement becoming more pronounced toward the end of the week. Activity in many issues resulted from individual developments.

Heavy buying of Warner Brothers Pictures followed reports that the company will retire its class A stock and issue new common in October at a price considerably above the present level. The stock advanced 7 points, and encountered profit taking and closed with a net gain of but a point. Fox Theater A was also in demand. Although increased earnings were a factor in the buying, there was evidence that strong interests were accumulating the stock.

Oil eased on increased crude oil production, firmed up on higher gasoline prices, but closed irregular. Utilities were more active. American Gas & Electric and United Gas Improvement advancing 8 and 6 points, respectively. Cities Service rallied fractionally.

RAIL BONDS STRONGER; STEEL ALSO IMPROVED

Fear of Further Stringency in Credit Acts Against General Firmness.

MOST U. S. ISSUES SAG

New York, July 28 (A.P.).—Developments during the past week, particularly in the money market, were not generally favorable and prices in the bond market pursued their downward course.

Increase in the acceptance rate to a level so nearly that of the Federal Reserve rediscount rate as to suggest a further advance in the latter was taken by many to indicate early tightness of money. Flow of funds out of the city, normally expected after the 25th of each month also had its effect. While time money remained at 6 per cent and the demand was dull, traders appeared to fear that the further credit stringency is near and that the first commercial demand for autumn funds will send loan rates to still higher levels. The fact that brokers' loans showed a reduction of only around $10,000,000 did not help the situation—or the outlook.

New public offerings approximated $1,124,000, as compared with $2,752,000 last week and $73,617,000 for the corresponding week of 1927. Railroad obligations were virtually the only issues to demonstrate other than temporary firmness during the week. Small gains in this group being ascribed to buying on the strength of increased loadings and a favorable fall outlook. Steel company bonds improved as better earnings reports were made public. Merger automotive bonds fluctuated with the irregular developments of the week in this field. Utilities were steady. The foreign list held firm, with Mexican issues recovering some of the ground lost on selling after the assassination of Obregon.

United States Government bonds appeared to be pressed for sale throughout the week, with most issues sagging to around the lower levels of the year. The Treasury announced that July 31 will be the final date for exchanging third Liberty 4½s for the new Treasury 3½s without any drastic effect on prices.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, July 29 (A.P.).—The Studebaker Corporation earned $4.44 a share on the common stock in the first half of 1928 against $4.38 a share in the first half of 1927. Net profit was $8,583,296 against $8,472,383. Net working capital June 30 was $40,400,000, compared with $36,700,000 on January 1. Second quarter net profit was $4,603,422, or $2.49 a share on the common, against $5,069,446, and $2.63 a share in the second quarter of 1927. Second quarter sales were 40,594 cars, a gain of 7,929 over the second quarter last year. June sales increased 65 per cent and July sales were running 50 per cent ahead of last year.

Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation reports profit of $3,870,000 for the first half of 1928, equal to $3.53 a share, and $1,505,000, or $2.33 a share for the second quarter. Both high records for those periods. Profit for the first half of 1927 was $3,532,300, or $5.60 a share, and a smaller amount of stock outstanding. The increase in earnings available for common stock in the half year was 30 per cent ahead of a year ago. The company retired its preferred stock last February, so that the amount available for common dividends in 1928 is total net earnings.

The protective committee appointed by holders of Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad refunding and extension 5 per cent mortgage gold bonds has extended the time limit for the deposit of bonds to September 17. About 40 per cent of the bonds has been deposited. The properties of the road have been in receivership since 1923. Guaranty Trust Co., of New York, is depository.

Never in the history of the oil business has the spirit of cooperation been so pronounced and universal as at the present time, in the opinion of William G. Skelly, president of Skelly Oil Co. and a leading operator in the Mid-continent field. This was particularly true of the producing end of the industry, he said, although it applied to an unprecedented degree in the refining branch. In the rush fields of Oklahoma and Texas, curtailment, conservation and preparation programs were working out in splendid shape.

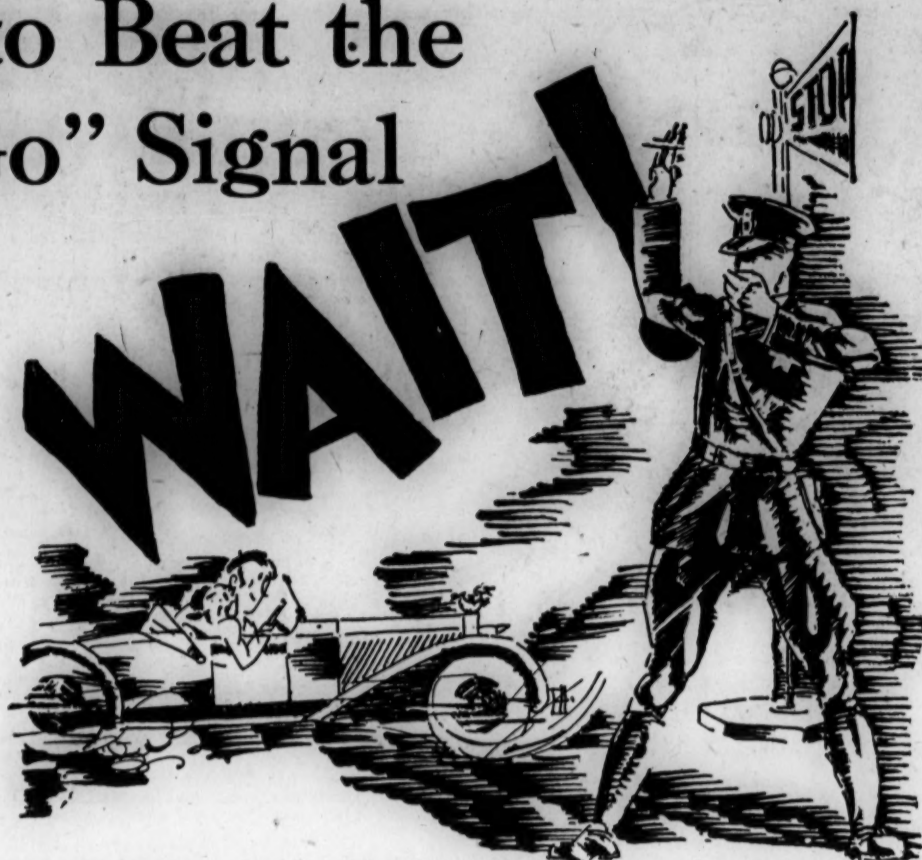

F. R. Henderson, president of the Rubber Exchange of New York, estimates there will be a stock of 75,000 tons of unshipped rubber in the Far East in November when the British restriction measures are abolished. British government officials were attempting to convince the rubber estates of the wisdom of distributing shipments on this surplus, rather than dumping it on the market in November. Indications were pointed to an increase in consumption in July.

Campbell, Wyant & Cannon Foundry Co. earned $9.01,010, or $4.30 a share, in the first half of 1928, compared with $772,000 and $3.69 a share in the first half of 1927. The company makes automobile cylinder block and head castings. Working capital June 30 was $1,555,590, of which $1,076,592 was cash.

Consolidated Gas Utilities Co. declared an initial dividend of 33 cents a share on the "A" stock, payable September 1 to holders of record August 24. It covers the period from July 6 to September 1. Further dividends will cover full quarterly periods, cumulative at the rate of 85 cents quarterly, or $2.55 a year. The board was increased from seven to nine members.

Don't Try to Beat the "Go" Signal

Drive Carefully
Stop At Crossings
Watch Traffic Signals
Obey All Speed Laws
Slow Down At Curves
Keep Children Off the Streets
Look Before You Cross
Don't Jay Walk
Don't Take Chances

Too many accidents are caused by failure to observe common-sense rules of the road. One of the most dangerous practices on the part of motorists in general is that of "jumping" traffic signals.

When you come to a halt at an intersection where the traffic signal says "Stop" wait for the signal to "Go" before you start to cross. At corners where traffic is controlled by lights wait for the green signal. The yellow signal is merely a warning that the lights are about to change. You have no right-of-way until the signal actually changes to green.

The same holds true at an intersection controlled by a traffic officer. The first toot of his whistle is merely a warning of change in direction of traffic. You have no license to start until the second toot of the whistle which means "Go."

Safety for motorists and pedestrians alike can and will be achieved when everyone determines to "play fair—according to the rules" and demands that others do likewise.

ARTHUR PRYOR TO LEAD FAMILY PARTY OVER WRC

Brass, Reed and String Musicians Will Give Program for Full Hour.

BAND CONCERT AT WMAL

Arthur Pryor, world-famous trombone soloist and leader of one of the foremost bands in America, will conduct the Family Party through WRC at 8:30 o'clock tonight, with his company of brass, reed and string musicians, assisted by Olive Klein, soprano.

The program will run a full hour instead of a half hour. Although he has made an outstanding success as a band leader in recent years, the secret of Arthur Pryor's hold on American popular fancy dates back to his career as a trombone soloist. He could do things with a trombone never done before or since. Experienced players of the instrument used to think he had secret attachments which explained his shrill, runs and tones.

Symphonic arrangements of some of the most popular composers will be played by a concert orchestra under the direction of Roderic Graham, and there will be the usual novelty group under the leadership of Joe Green. Henri L. Therrien was a mechanic in Holyoke, Mass. Then he met Roxy.

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN, SC. D.

The Parent Counselor.

Dr. Dean will answer all named letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. Only questions of general interest answered in this column. All letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped self-addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Arthur Dean, in care of this paper.

STRICKEN when he was but a year old, not expected to live when he was seven and removed from school. A hopeless invalid all his life and yet a genius at 57. Such was the progress of C. Lee Cook, of Kentucky, noted as a scholar, an author of law, languages, history and art. We would consider his achievement fabulous and we not seen in the papers at death and ago with the report of his death an account of his life which we all read with interest and inspiration.

It only affirms again that many serious handicaps are psychological rather than physical. The psychologists tell us that we all possess a will to dominate, a desire for superiority over others. In most of us, this assumes a perfectly harmless natural and even beneficial expression, but when a child is born with a handicap, or is stricken soon afterwards, as was Mr. Cook, strange things may happen. A peculiar psychology develops. He finds himself in a bitter struggle against his surroundings as he tries to overcome his difficulties. Maybe he can't run or walk as his playmates do, or throw a ball or play the games he sees them playing. This vexes him and fires an exaggerated will to dominate. He can't be like those around him but he wants a feeling of superiority over them, something to compensate him for his own inferiority.

In such cases this will to dominate sometimes assumes a very disagreeable aspect. As the child grows older, he may develop a pessimistic outlook and withdraw into himself, getting his satisfaction by commanding those about him, playing upon the sympathies of his family, making them wait on him, take care of him and bow to his every wish. In that way he gains his feeling of superiority. What a deplorable attitude!

But it doesn't always take such a turn. There is another direction, a very admirable one, where superiority comes in mental achievement rather than physical command, and that was Mr. Cook's reaction.

Supervised Reading.

Is it right that my mother should say what books I shall read, and what pictures I shall see after I'm seventeen?

Answer—How well I know your feelings! The chief ambition of my childhood was to stay up until seven-thirty. Of my early youth to stay out until ten o'clock. Of later youth to do as I pleased. Wonderful! How we did look forward to the great days to come.

Your mother and you have a difficult task in common. It is: To train you to read or see at 17 or 70 those things which give you health, beauty, strength of mind and soul.

Russia Will Assist German Airship Trip

Leningrad, July 29 (A.P.)—The International Arctic Society of Russia and the Academy of Science held a joint meeting to consider plans for aiding a round-the-world flight of the German Zeppelin LZ-127.

The flight is expected to start in late July or early August and will follow a route through Russia. The Arctic Society is considering the preparation of a base in Vladivostok and the provision of means for emergency landings in Leningrad, Omsk, Irkutsk, Krasnoyarsk and Yakutsk.

Mrs. J. J. Walker Enjoys Iowa Food

New York, July 29 (A.P.)—For real eats Clinton, Iowa, is heartily endorsed by Mrs. James J. Walker, wife of the mayor. Back from her first visit to the old farm in seventeen years, she said she never had such a good meal in her life and never expects another like it unless the 52 relatives get together again. But not a real hick did she find. Instead she noted a clean, orderly city and the latest things from Paris worn just as soon as on Broadway.

$300,000 FUND IN HAND GIVEN BY CHAPTERS

Mrs. Alena Lamond Treasurer of Committee to Provide for Building.

Plans for the carrying forward of the project for the erection of an imposing International Eastern Star Temple in Washington, for which more than $300,000 has been contributed so far, were discussed at the triennial meeting of the Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, which concluded a seven-day convention at Denver, Saturday.

Prompt measures to guarantee the early erection of the structure were urged by the more than 50 delegates from Washington in attendance at the convention.

Construction of the temple was authorized at a meeting of the Grand Chapter held in 1922 at Louisville, Ky. At that time it was decided that Washington was the logical situation for the temple but no definite action was taken looking to the construction of the building. A later meeting in 1925 at Toronto, Canada, gave impetus to the movement.

The movement of the temple was appointed to arrange for the carrying on of the campaign and to care for the many details of the project.

Governor Hiram Committee.

Gov. John Hammill, of Iowa, was appointed chairman of the committee. A district woman, Mrs. Alena Lamond, who also is Grand Treasurer of the General Assembly, was appointed treasurer of the committee.

The first contribution to the fund was from a chapter in far off China and since then the various chapters of the order throughout the world have contributed more than $300,000 toward the erection of the temple.

Denver meeting and the local chapters are waiting with much interest for the return of the delegates from Washington, most of whom returned Saturday night for Washington.

The delegation is headed by Mrs. Sally C. Bogle, worthy grand matron of the District of Columbia, and approximately 50 officers and past officers of the local chapters. Mrs. Lamond also is attending the convention.

The local members of the order will be informed of the action taken by the convention when the delegates arrive here. Much interest has been shown in the project by the Washington members.

Foundling, Believed Drugged, Awakened

Finally aroused from what police and hospital authorities believe to have been a drug induced sleep, the 2½-month-old baby boy found at midnight Saturday in a basket on the porch of 5418 Ninth street northwest, was well and apparently normal yesterday at his home at the Washington Foundling Asylum, 1715 Fifteenth street northwest.

While the police are without clues as to the child's identity except for the mysterious telephone call received at the Thirteenth precinct, that led to the baby's discovery, the hospital authorities will make an effort to find the foundling's parents. Yesterday the boy appeared to be in good health, a belief that a sleeping potion had been given him before abandonment.

Truck Passenger Injured in Crash

Louis Platt, 17 years old, of 922 New York avenue, was seriously injured and received cuts and bruises when the truck on which he was a passenger, operated by Eugene Phillips, 604 Fifth street northeast, was involved in a collision with a car on the sidewalk and broke a plate glass window in a store at Seventh and E streets.

Blanton, Beaten for Senate, To Return As 'Lame Duck'

Texan Relinquishes Seat in Next House By Running for Upper Chamber—Has Had Stormy Career While in Congress.

Representative Thomas L. Blanton (Democrat), of Texas, has fought his greatest political fight and has lost. Consequently, when he returns here for the next session of Congress he will come as "lame duck." The story of Blanton, who has frequently boasted of running men out of office, now has lost his own office.

After serving six hectic terms in the House, Blanton believed that he was ready for the Senate, and so threw his hat in the ring. But according to the primary returns, Texas did not agree with him. The returns show that he has been hopelessly beaten by Representative Tom Connally and Senator Earle B. Mayfield, the incumbent.

No Majority Choice Made.

Under the Texas law, no majority choice is made, the two candidates polling the highest number of votes are pitted against each other in a runoff primary, the winner receiving the nomination. As the Democratic nomination is equivalent to election, either Mayfield or Connally will sit in the Senate.

News of Blanton's defeat was received in Washington with mingled surprise and disappointment. He has been thoroughly despised the Texas. There are others who sincerely admire him. There is a third group of persons who don't know whether to like him or dislike him.

It is doubtful if any member of Congress ever said as much to say about the District affairs as Blanton. Sometimes he has been constructive, at other times destructive. As a rule, he directed his fire against some individual here or some group of individuals.

Blanton regarded as his greatest local triumph his successful fight against Congressman Frederick A. Pennington, whom he drove out of office after a sensational exposure of Pennington's methods in the handling of the affairs of insane war veterans.

In the last session, Blanton caused another sensation when he accused Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, of drinking in a "regular saloon." Hesse, however, weathered the storm of the Texas charges and was exonerated by the House.

Later Blanton was again in the headlines. Policeman Orville Staples, who had been befriended by Blanton, was hauled before the police court on a half-dozen or more charges, and Blanton, shouting "frame up," went to his room.

Odd Fellows Lodge To Hold Beach Outing

Forest Lodge, No. 41, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of Washington, Md., will hold its thirtieth annual outing on Thursday at Chesapeake Beach. The excursion will take the form of a huge gathering of the lodge members from Maryland counties, as well as of Odd Fellows from the District, Maryland and Virginia. A joint fried chicken picnic will be held.

In order to make the trip as jovial as possible the lodge has asked all members to park their cars at home and go to the resort in a body by train. The excursion committee is composed of LeRoy Humphrey, Howard I. Beall and Albert G. Aist.

NEW GAS INVENTED AID TO PROHIBITION; CHECK TO CRIME

Would Make Speakeasies and Resorts of Criminals Uninhabitable.

CHEMICAL BULLETS FIRED FROM PISTOLS

Police of Several Cities Are Said to Be Using Invention in Fighting Underworld.

Prohibition officials would not have to bother with padlocks if they could arrange to use the new chemical which has been perfected by the U. S. Army Chemical Warfare Service, according to Edmund Bullis, of the Roiden apartments here, executive secretary of the National Association for Chemical Defense.

With the new gas they could permeate a speakeasy or criminal-gathering place in such a manner that it would be uninhabitable for a month, he declared last night.

Any person entering a room so treated would find his eyes, ears, nose and throat affected in such a manner that it would be impossible to withstand the irritation. The chemical is so strong that special precautions must be taken in using it, he said. It is recommended that the small tin box containing the chemical be placed in the fire against some individual here or some group of individuals.

Blanton regarded as his greatest local triumph his successful fight against Congressman Frederick A. Pennington, whom he drove out of office after a sensational exposure of Pennington's methods in the handling of the affairs of insane war veterans.

In the last session, Blanton caused another sensation when he accused Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, of drinking in a "regular saloon." Hesse, however, weathered the storm of the Texas charges and was exonerated by the House.

Later Blanton was again in the headlines. Policeman Orville Staples, who had been befriended by Blanton, was hauled before the police court on a half-dozen or more charges, and Blanton, shouting "frame up," went to his room.

THREE WOMEN INJURED AS TAXI AND AUTO CRASH

Police Hold Joseph H. Russell, Driver, Pending Outcome of Victims' Hurts.

Three women were severely injured yesterday morning when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Black & White taxi cab operated by Joseph H. Russell, 24 years old, of 814 Connecticut avenue, at Four-and-a-half street and Maine avenue southwest.

The women were Miss Sara M. Harrington, 35 years old, of 1111 B street northeast, who was operating the automobile that was struck, and her two sisters, Vennie L. Harrington, 34 years old, and Margaret G. Harrington, 33 years old, of the same address.

They were taken to Emergency Hospital, where Sara and Vennie Harrington were treated for lacerations on the head and possible fractured skulls, and Margaret Harrington for lacerations on the head and a bruised rib.

After hospital treatment Margaret Harrington returned to her home under the care of a physician, but her sisters' condition was undetermined, and they remained at the hospital last night.

Vennie Harrington is a clerk at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and Margaret Harrington is employed at the Treasury Department.

Policeman Snyder, of No. 4 Precinct, arrested Russell at a meeting of the No. 4 last night for investigation pending the outcome of the victims' injuries. According to the police, Russell was driving a four-door Buick automobile when he struck the women's automobile, which was going east on Main avenue.

PILGRIMAGES MADE BY HOWARD STUDENTS

Historic Scenes Visited by Classes Attending Summer School.

Activities of the summer session at Howard University, now in the sixth week, have reached a climax featured by extra curricular activities. The routine of class work in art, education, history, psychology and other branches, connected with teacher training and music, has been relieved by trips to nearby places, including Mount Vernon and Gettysburg. The Mount Vernon trip was made by 40 students, and the Gettysburg trip by 60.

MRS. MARY CHURCH TERRELL NATIONAL CO-OPERS OF COLORED MEN

Support of New Headquarters Here Is Urged at Session in Baptist Church.

COOPERATION PLEDGED BY ELK ORGANIZATION

Pageant Given Illustrating 32 Years of Development of Association.

The sixteenth biennial session of the National Association of Colored Women was formally opened yesterday at the Nineteenth Street Baptist Church, here, by Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, its founder, making the principal address.

She traced the history of the organization through its early periods of ridicule and struggle up to its present period of compact organization for definite social, civic and political purposes.

The matter of support of the newly acquired headquarters at Twelfth and O streets northwest, was emphasized by Mrs. Terrell, who spoke of a national headquarters building as the lifeblood of the association.

Mrs. Hattie G. Brown and Miss Elizabeth W. Moscovitz, introduced as regional presidents, and brief addresses were made by presidents of federations of the association from 44 States, Mrs. Marie M. Marshall representing the District. A special plea for close cooperation among all the groups was made by Mrs. E. L. Elizabeth Lindsey Davis, of Chicago, national historian.

Metropolitan

"The Lion and the Mouse." Warner Bros. most pretentious Vitaphone demonstration to date, of the possibilities of talking motion pictures, is held over for a second week at the Metropolitan.

In this film, Lionel Barrymore, Alec B. Francis, May McAvoy and William Collier, Jr., are given opportunities to display their audible, as well as visible, histrionic abilities, and to demonstrate the work of Barrymore as a actor of the first water, by revealing him as the "Ready-Money" Ryder, a Wall street "octopus," and what happens when the misuse of his power, born of predatory wealth, brings him in conflict with a young girl and her love for her father and for the financier's own son.

Other Vitaphone subjects are the comedy "The Great Dictator," by Charlie Chaplin, and the comedy "The Great Dictator," by Charlie Chaplin, and the comedy "The Great Dictator," by Charlie Chaplin.

Uncle Ray's Corner

Greetings From English Children.

AFTER giving the talk at the Stratford School, I asked the children whether they would write letters to be printed in the Corner. They liked the idea very much, and about 25 of them were given time to set down their thoughts for us to read.

A trip to the National Cemetery at Arlington on July 31 is contemplated. These students will place a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and visit the grave of Col. Charles Young under guidance of Lieut. Frank Coleman.

The annual informal reception for the 405 students registered in the summer session will be held in the dining hall on August 2. A musical program will be rendered August 8 by students in the school of music under direction of Roy W. Tibbs and Miss Lulu V. Childs, director of the school of music. Final examinations will be held August 14 and 15.

AT THE THEATERS

That the principals of "The Big Parade" are reunited in the screen attraction current at Loew's Palace Theater is less important than the fact that "The Cossacks" would be an interesting picture under any circumstances.

The drama revealed in this rugged romance of the Russian steppes is of that vibrant, sweeping sort that demands a vast canvas and an almost total absorption of the spectator to the savage brutalities of semi-barbarous warfare. It deals with no gentle emotions and delicacy of treatment is not to be numbered among its virtues.

Its conflict is physical and no attempt has been made to catch any of the "message" of Tolstoy's psychological study of a weakling turned to steel by slaughter, but if you can with relish stomach a few repugnant atrocities in the name of love in the end, you will find it a gripping and murderously moving film.

John Gilbert is ideally cast, I should say, as Lubashka, the idling, "woman man," son of the towering Cossack chieftain. Too lazy to fight and too much the philanderer to love, he is finally whipped into action by the advent to the village of the Magdala, a beautiful girl, who is the daughter of the Cossack chieftain.

In this manner, the plot is interestingly shunted about over the major portion of the Western Hemisphere. The rich man liked travel.

In Havana, Earl Fox's villainies are cleverly handled in a satirical parody for unnumbered tons of TNT, dynamite and giant powder, and Sally Phillips and Brandon Hurst are removed from the cyclonic whirl of the film to the court of the Tsar—a matter of small importance to a fighting man.

Rene Adoree, as Mary, Ernest Torrence, the Ataman with the smell of blood always in his nostrils, and Nils Asther, in the suave role of the embassador from Moscow, enter completely into the spirit of the tale and are one with the prodigious surge of the romance and its rapid pace.

Dale Grier and Paul Hurst are among those who make minor roles seem important, and a troop of real Cossacks contribute to the realism of the picture.

Wesley Eddy returns to the stage after a week's vacation to present "The Great Dictator," an amusing comedy, which is a very good deal of fun.

To celebrate his homecoming, Mr. Eddy sings, first, a new comedy of his own, dedicated to the Capital and called, "I Take It, 'Dear Old Washington.'"

Later he goes back to his old-time comedy, "The Great Dictator," and does "I Take It, 'Dear Old Washington.'"

Then we get back to earth and in quick succession are presented the varied activities of the "Michon Brothers, comedy acrobats; 'Mirth' Mack, a blonde blues singer; Rose Marlane, a cyclonic dancer; George Boyce, eccentric dancer; Lawrence Downey, baritone, in 'Ramona,' and Sammy Carson, in 'The Great Dictator.'"

This idea has many merits, and a vast amount of fun because the production of the picture is a masterpiece of the art of the screen.

St. J. Stebbins inaugurates an innovation in the picture business by converting the picture into a stage band with its entire personnel still under the direction of Leon Bratloff. No attempt is made to achieve "hot" effects, but many popular rhythms, nevertheless, are cleverly executed.

The Fox Movietone News completes its series of "The Great Dictator" with the picture "The Great Dictator," which is just as well after "The Cossacks" no longer matters.

numerous others in less prominent parts.

The exotic stage revue, "In Hawaii," offers opportunity for colorful settings, and a variety of musical numbers. The last week of Jack Pepper's local engagement. MORE POLICE NEEDED FOR MOTOR TRAFFIC

Heavy Increase at Certain Intersections Said to Require More Patrolmen.

CHIEF ALVIE A. MOXLEY DISCUSSES CONDITIONS

Hilton, Hickerson, Williams Named to Represent Board at Fair Pageant.

A movement is on foot to make a comprehensive study of traffic conditions in the lower section of Montgomery County with a view to asking an increase in the county police force. The heavy increase in vehicular traffic throughout the section is said to demand more police officers to direct the continuous movement of vehicle at intersections, where conditions are said to be equal to those of active intersections in a large city.

Alvie A. Moxley, chief of the county police force, declared last night that there is an immediate need for five or six additional men on his force. By the time the State legislature has an opportunity to act on a measure to authorize an increase in the county police force there will be a need of at least ten more, he said.

The county police force consists of the chief and eighteen men. The opinion was expressed that the conditions now existing would require at least six additional men to the force. The expense would gladly be borne by the taxpayers, since the cost of operating the present force is about $10,000 a year, and the police force amounts to only $45,000 annually, it was said by one official. He asserted he thought it would be a good idea to have a force of $120,000 to $180,000 a year for the needed policemen would not be objected to, as the people of the county are beginning to recognize the growing menace to motorists and pedestrians by the increase in traffic.

Seven dangerous intersections were pointed to as showing the necessity for competent officers whose sole duty would be to direct traffic at those places. One of the most dangerous is at the intersection of Connecticut and Rockville pike, Old Georgetown road and Bethesda road. It is rapidly becoming a real danger spot and will become worse when the new east and west road is opened through Washington, which will mean a doubling of the almost continuous traffic converging at one spot, which is besides traversed by a curved street track.

A police officer said yesterday that the intersection of Wisconsin avenue, Rockville pike, Old Georgetown road and Bethesda road is rapidly becoming a real danger spot and will become worse when the new east and west road is opened through Washington, which will mean a doubling of the almost continuous traffic converging at one spot, which is besides traversed by a curved street track.

It was said that the Georgia avenue entrance to Silver Spring at the underpass of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks will constitute a grave menace when the widening and reconstruction of Georgia avenue is completed. It is believed that the widening of the underpass, through which all traffic must pass. With the completion of the paving of Carroll avenue in Takoma Park, the most dangerous intersection in the business men there were frank to say that a traffic problem will arise where the street car line now ends.

Printing Prescription Blanks Aid Bureau

An increase in the force at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving for printing prescription blank will be for a limited number of the employees and allow a lay-off of the employees of the bureau for two days at a time, it was indicated yesterday.

A change in the form of the prescription blanks necessitates the complete reworking of the existing blanks. The printing of the new blanks will be a task of the bureau for two days at a time, it was indicated yesterday.

It is expected that an order directing the reduction of the bureau's force to the number of the bureau will be issued today by Alvin W. Hall, director of the bureau. A decrease in the force is in name only, as the saying goes, for this partial lay-off, it is believed, the increasing use of bank checks is believed to account for this decline in currency use.

COLUMBIA

Let us succumb to the doctrine of companionate marriage, as set forth so eloquently by Judge "Lindbergh" in the Movietone News last week, along comes a picture to the Columbia screen designed to prove that the old-fashioned way is the most important part of the vows for those really in love.

Ether Ralston, as the ultra modern wife, is the picture of a woman who is in name only, as the saying goes, for she is a trial marriage with an ineffectual, blond youth, when she finds herself launched instead on an extraordinary voyage in the arms of Gary Cooper, the despised young captain of her father's yacht, is the seeming master of her fate.

The picture is a shipwrecked on an uninhabited island and forced into a trial marriage of their own, though this is in name only, as the saying goes, for after several months, Ether lets it be known that she loves Gary with one heart, and Gary, in return, lets it be known that he loves Ether with one heart. It's just the propriety and lack of competition, so he goes off and chops wood. She continues to pursue him with sweet enmity, however, and after her return to civilization, he does her the honor of becoming her husband, the most old-fashioned ceremony available being used.

It is surprising that a plot having to do with a shipwrecked on an uninhabited island and forced into a trial marriage of their own, though this is in name only, as the saying goes, for after several months, Ether lets it be known that she loves Gary with one heart, and Gary, in return, lets it be known that he loves Ether with one heart. It's just the propriety and lack of competition, so he goes off and chops wood. She continues to pursue him with sweet enmity, however, and after her return to civilization, he does her the honor of becoming her husband, the most old-fashioned ceremony available being used.

These were recently drafted by the Cuban state department and now await the formal approval of President Machado. The ruling designed to ensure that young diplomatic agents will keep their minds on their work.

A clause is included giving the president power to grant special marriage permits in an emergency.
